Laurel shooting victim dies of injuries

One arrested; $5,000 reward for information about second suspect

Kaiyon Stanfield, 20, who was one of two victims in a double shooting in Laurel Dec. 18, has been pronounced deceased at Shock Trauma. His cousin, Khalil Stanfield, 21, remains in serious, but stable condition at the same hospital.

Police arrested Davon Phillip Jones, 20, of Bridle Path Lane, on Dec. 20 as one of the suspects in the shooting. Police intend to amend the charges filed against him from attempted murder to murder. He has also been charged with assault and handgun violations and is being held without bond at the Howard County Detention Center.

Detectives continue to search for a second suspect in the shooting and are offering a reward of up to $5,000 for information.

On Dec. 18, police were called around 1:30 p.m. for a report of gunshots in the 9400 block of Woodsong Court. Officers arrived and found Kaiyon Stanfield in a car suffering from multiple gunshot wounds. They also located Khalil Stanfield a short distance away in the 9300 block of Daly Court, suffering from gunshot wounds.

Police found drugs at the scene and believe the incident may have been drug-related.
